Adult Winter Reading

Adult Winter Reading is underway for the third year in a row! Adult Winter Reading is a great way to shrug off the doldrums of the winter and pick up some books you've wanted to read, or have been meaning to read, or maybe haven't even thought to read. To take part this year, come to the Multimedia & Fiction Desk, or any of the library's branches, and ask for an Adult Winter Reading card. Complete six of the challenges on the inside of the card and return it to us, and we'll hook you up with an umbrella, because we all know that winter in the Upstate means lots of rain.

We're also excited to host novelist Brad Taylor on January 27 at 7:00 p.m. at the Headquarters Library. The old adage "write what you know" holds especially true for bestselling author and retired Special Forces Lieutenant Colonel Brad Taylor, who has penned sixteen military thrillers about Pike Logan, a Taskforce operator who works outside the law to stop some of the greatest threats to global safety. To celebrate the release of his 17th novel, "The Devil's Ransom," Brad Taylor is stopping by SCPL to talk about his new novel. We're giving away free copies of his new novel at the door, and Taylor will sign books after he speaks.
