Community Mural

As part of our Summer Reading Kick-Off, the Middle Tyger Library partnered with Blank Canvas Mural Company to create a custom-designed mural that would be completed by participants in June 2025. Local artist Adam Schrimmer, captured the national and local Summer Reading themes of space and creativity, while highlighting our neighboring river and featuring our mascot hiding just behind the tree. One hundred and seventy patrons of all ages were able to take part in bringing this special piece to life and anyone can see it displayed in our meeting room. Find out more about Adam's work and Blank Canvas Mural at blankcanvasmuralco.com.

Book Review by Irene Kashtelianska

Man's Search for Meaning by Viktor E. Frankl

Man's Search for Meaning is a powerful blend of memoir and psychological reflection, written by psychiatrist and Holocaust survivor Viktor E. Frankl. In the first part of the book, he recounts his time in Nazi concentration camps, offering a deeply human and restrained account of suffering, loss, and resilience. Rather than focus on horror alone, Frankl turns his experiences into a profound meditation on the human capacity to endure, and the importance of finding meaning even in the bleakest circumstances. The second part introduces Frankl's psychological theory of logotherapy, which suggests that our primary motivation in life is not pleasure or power, but purpose. His insights are both practical and deeply moving - reminding us that while we may not always control what happens to us, we can choose how we respond. This book is both humbling and inspiring, offering a timeless message about strength, hope, and the meaning we create in our lives.
